Introduction

The purpose of the Oversight Board is to protect freedom of expression by making principled, independent decisions about important pieces of content and by issuing policy advisory opinions on Facebook’s content policies.

The board’s primary governing document, its charter, states that a set of bylaws will detail the operational procedures for the board.¹ Taken together, the charter and bylaws explain the board’s purpose and govern how it will function.

The board’s governance structure was designed to allow for a mechanism, separate from Facebook, through which content can be brought forward for independent review; namely through the creation of the Oversight Board Trust (“the trust”) and the Oversight Board Limited Liability Corporation (“the LLC”).

The trust was created to facilitate the creation, funding, management, and oversight of a structure that will permit and protect the operation of the board. And the LLC is a legal entity created by the trust to hold the contractual relationship with board members and hire a full-time staff (“the administration”).

Importantly, the bylaws detail the relationship between all those who have a stake in the board’s success, including Facebook, Inc. and Instagram (collectively referred to as “Facebook”), the board itself, the people who submit requests for the board’s review, and the trust:

- Article 1 outlines the respective roles of the board’s membership, its committees, and administration, while setting out procedures for case review and communications.
- Article 2 reaffirms Facebook’s commitment to the board and establishes procedures for its case submission, decision implementation, and response to policy advisory opinions.
- Article 3 explains the procedures by which people can submit cases to the board.
- Article 4 provides an overview of the composition and duties of the trust.
- Article 5 sets a process for amendments to the bylaws.

In cases where there is a potential conflict between interpretations of the charter and bylaws, the charter shall prevail.

The bylaws will be operational upon their respective adoption by Facebook, the trustees and members of the board. Subsequent amendments can be adopted in accordance with Article 5, herein.

ARTICLE 1

Oversight Board

Section 1. Members

The board is administered by an LLC established by the trust. It will be composed of a diverse set of members whose names will be public. They will exercise neutral, independent judgment and render decisions impartially.² To manage its operations, the board will have officers and committees, which will meet periodically to conduct business, including case and member selection.³

1.1 Officers

The officers of the board will initially consist of at least three (3) co-chairs. Thereafter, the board may periodically assess its officer structure and create or appoint additional positions, based on its operational requirements.

1.1.1 Officer Duties

Co-chairs will have the same duties and obligations as the rest of the board, in addition to their duties and obligations as officers.

The co-chairs will supervise the affairs of the board (e.g. calling and presiding over meetings).⁴ They will set agendas for meetings; oversee the voting on board- related business, and ensure that minutes are documented and circulated to all members. They will also rotate as chairs of the case selection and membership committees, as described below.

The co-chairs may participate in the management of the board's administration, which will include hiring staff members, developing an annual budget, and arranging general services for the board.⁵

In addition, the co-chairs will have ex-officio seats at meetings of the trustees and will report to board members on the outcomes of those discussions. The board may also request that the co-chairs take on additional duties, such as setting procedural rules, as needs arise.

Any actions that may be taken by the co-chairs of the board will require the approval of a majority of the co-chairs of the board.

1.1.2 Officer Selection and Term

Facebook will select the initial co-chairs. Thereafter, the outgoing co-chairs, in consultation with the entire board, will select their replacements, who will then be sent to the trustees for confirmation. In selecting co-chairs, preference should be given to members who have completed at least one year of service on the board. If the board determines that it would like to elect other officers, those individuals can be elected by a majority vote of the board itself.

Co-chairs and other officers will serve initial terms of three years, up to a maximum of two terms total, or until their resignation or removal. The board will confirm renewals and/or elect officers during their meetings.⁶

Upon the confirmation of co-chairs to a second term, those terms will be staggered in order to ensure a smooth transition of leadership on the board.⁷ Second terms will be staggered to ensure that the co-chairs do not leave office concurrently.

1.1.3 Officer Resignation, Removal, and Vacancies

Co-chairs and other officers may step down from their position as board officers at any time by giving written notice to the director of the oversight board (“the director”); they may also have their responsibilities as co-chairs revoked by a two-thirds vote of the board, which must be approved by the trustees. Removal as an officer will not automatically result in removal from the board.

Ordinary vacancies, however occurring, may be filled by a majority vote of the board on a temporary basis, until the next semi-annual meeting of the board.

1.2 Committees

The board will have a membership committee and case selection committee. Each committee shall be chaired by a single co-chair. The board may form other committees, and decide their leadership structure, through a majority vote, as needed.

1.2.1 Case Selection Committee

Members of the case selection committee will serve three month terms on a rotating basis. Co-chairs will rotate leadership of this committee every three months.

The case selection committee will set criteria (e.g. importance and precedential impact) for the cases that the board will prioritize and select for review, which may change over time. Decisions of the committee will be by majority vote, subject to override by a majority vote of the full board.

The case selection committee will document its selection criteria, as well as the volume and types of cases that: Facebook has submitted; people have submitted; and the board has selected for review.⁸

1.2.2 Membership Committee

Members of the membership committee will serve annual terms on a rotating basis. Co-chairs will rotate leadership of this committee on an annual basis.

To form the initial board, Facebook and the co-chairs will work together to interview and recruit potential board candidates. Thereafter, these activities will become the sole responsibility of the membership committee.

The membership committee will oversee the process for identifying and proposing board members, in accordance with the charter.⁹ It will also create procedures for recommending the removal or renewal of board members to trustees, for review by the full board.

As part of its identification of potential candidates, the membership committee will review submissions from the recommendations portal, which will be the single point of entry for recommendations from the public, Facebook, and board members. Board membership may be closed to candidates based on conflicts of interest, as outlined in the attached code of conduct.

The membership committee will review upcoming vacancies on an ongoing basis and identify the regional and expertise needs of the board. Based on these needs, it will screen and interview candidates with the help of the administration and any external vendors that may be needed, such as executive search firms.

Following interviews, the membership committee will prepare a slate of recommended candidates for consideration by the board. Board members will vote on individual candidates, keeping in mind the diversity and expertise considerations stipulated by the charter and below.¹⁰ Those candidates who receive a majority vote of the board will have their names presented to the trustees for formal appointment.

Removals require a two-thirds vote of the board (not counting the member(s) in question), subject to approval of the trustees (as described in Article 4 “The Trust”); and may be considered only for a violation of the code of conduct, attached to this document.¹¹

Regarding renewals, the membership committee on a semi-annual basis will identify all members who are eligible for a term renewal and wish to continue to serve on the board. The membership committee will forward this list to the trustees for their review; those who have fulfilled their contractual duties will be automatically approved.

1.2.3 Committee Structure and Operations

Once the board reaches its authorized minimum level as defined in the charter,¹² board committees will consist of at least three members. As needed, the board will adjust the size of these committees.

All members will be expected to serve on committees periodically, per the rotation schedule listed above.¹³ The board will issue procedures to govern the operation of the rotations involved in committee staffing. Should a vacancy arise, the co-chairs can appoint a replacement on a temporary basis.

Board committees will meet (either in person or remotely) as frequently as necessary to ensure that their duties and functions are carried out. They will make decisions by majority vote, except where stated otherwise in these bylaws, and circulate official minutes to the board as a whole.

1.3 Board Meetings and Voting

In addition to hearing cases, the board will convene to support its operations and carry out its duties.

1.3.1 Periodic Board Meetings

The board should meet in-person annually to ensure the smooth conduct of business. These annual meetings may include sessions for training members; confirming officers; reviewing committee minutes, documents, and recommendations; reviewing administration resources, performance, and priorities; preparing the board's annual report;¹⁴ and discussing other matters of practice or procedure. In limited and exceptional circumstances, board members may attend these meetings remotely.

1.3.2 Special Board Meetings

In emergency or exceptional cases, additional meetings (in-person or remote) may be required. These special meetings of the board may be convened by the co-chairs or a majority of board members.

1.3.3 Board Meeting Structure and Operations

Written notice of periodic and special meetings must specify the date, time, location, and purpose for convening the board. This notice will be provided at least eight weeks in advance for in-person convenings and, unless in case of imminent emergency, at least two days in advance for remote convenings. Members are required to acknowledge receipt of this notice and also indicate their attendance in a timely fashion. Should the board require participation from Facebook at any of these meetings, the director will also give advance notice, along the same timeline above.

Once the board reaches its authorized minimum level of eleven persons, a majority of the total number of members will constitute a quorum. If a quorum cannot be reached, the meeting will adjourn.

Voting can take place in-person or electronically. Each member will have only one vote on each matter up for decision, and proxy voting will not be allowed. Outcomes will be determined by majority rule, based on the number of members present, in-person or remotely. Outside of case deliberations, abstentions will be allowed.

Minutes will be taken and circulated to board members within one week. The administration may assist with this task, upon the direction of the board.

1.4 Size and Composition

The board's size and composition may vary over time to meet the operational and substantive needs of the board, but its ideal size is forty people. The total number of members, at any given time, may be calibrated to accommodate case volume and scope.

1.4.1 Geographic Balance

At all times the board must include a globally diverse set of members, given the needs of panel composition.¹⁵ In particular, this means that board membership should encompass the following regions:¹⁶

- United States and Canada;
- Latin America and the Caribbean;
- Europe;
- Sub-Saharan Africa;

- Middle East and North Africa;
- Central and South Asia; and
- Asia Pacific and Oceania.

Should the board's geographic balance fail to encompass the above stated regions, it can continue to operate. However, it must fulfill its membership requirements expeditiously, within a maximum of six months.

1.4.2 Member Term

With the exception of the inaugural board members, membership terms will start on either April 1 or September 1 of each year. Board members will serve for three-year terms, which may be served consecutively or non-consecutively, so long as total service does not exceed nine years.

1.4.3 Member Compensation

Each member will be compensated quarterly in the amount specified in their contract. Under the direction of the membership committee, the administration will prepare a quarterly report, submitted to the trust, which certifies that members have satisfied their contractual duties and are eligible for payment.

At the request and direction of the co-chairs, the administration may review member compensation, as needed, should workload increase beyond the hours originally envisaged in their contract and/or should an inflation adjustment be required. In such cases, the administration will deliver a report with its recommendations to the trustees for their review and approval, as part of the submission of the board's annual budget.¹⁷

1.4.4 Member Responsibilities and Duties

Members will act in a manner that reflects the independence, integrity, and professionalism of the board. Their responsibilities will include:

- Respecting and upholding the purpose of the board, as outlined in the charter;
- Acting on behalf of and in the interest of the board; and
- Safeguarding confidential information.

All members will perform their duties in accordance with the board’s charter, bylaws, and contract, which includes:

- Reviewing, deliberating, and deciding on cases, including writing final decisions;
- Participating in training on Facebook’s policies, values, enforcement practices, and international human rights standards, etc.
- Participating in board, committee, and panel meetings;
- Preparing written documents for the board (e.g. panel recommendations, meeting minutes, annual reports, etc.), as well as other board-related business;
- Abiding by agreed timelines set by the co-chairs in order to ensure promptness and fairness of decision-making;
- Staying abreast of general developments in the field of digital content and governance; and
- Complying with the code of conduct.

Members should be prepared and willing to engage on the substance of cases, some of which may include offensive material.

1.4.5 Member Resignations and Vacancies

Any member may resign by notifying the co-chairs or director in writing, with at least sixty (60) days notice. The resignation will take effect at the time specified in the notice or, if the time is not specified, upon its acceptance by the co-chairs.

Any vacancy occurring in the board may be filled according to the procedures set forth above.¹⁸

Section 2. Administration

To support its operations, the board will have a full-time administration whose duties will include reviewing case submissions and coordinating outside research and statements for selected cases.¹⁹

2.1 Administration Size and Functions

Administration staff will be employed by the LLC, the legal entity created by the trust. At a minimum, the administration will include the director and case managers.

2.1.1 Director of Oversight Board

The director will serve as the head of the administration and oversee the work of the staff to ensure that the board has: adequate resources for operational, legal, communications, and logistical support; access to a pool of experts;²⁰ and that the cases the board reviews are properly developed and documented. The director will be appointed by the trustees, with participation by the co-chairs.

2.1.2 Case Managers

The administration's case managers will maintain responsibility for reviewing cases, based on criteria set by the case selection committee. They will also coordinate the information submitted for case review as directed by the board, which could include information from outside experts and others. In addition, case managers will be available to assist with panel deliberations by taking notes.

2.1.3 Other Functions and Additional Positions

The administration will also consist of dedicated staff and/or contracted services to support the board's communications, legal, administrative, and human resources needs. The director will assess and fill these needs on an ongoing basis and can request the creation of additional positions, after consulting the co-chairs.²¹

The size and functions of the administration may vary over time in accordance with the board's needs.

2.2 Administration Staff Selection

The administration will be composed of a diverse set of staff members that should have expertise in a range of fields such as technology, media, law, ethics, human computer interaction, human rights, digital rights, tech policy, and journalism. The director will select administration staff, with participation of the co-chairs.

2.3 Administration Staff Code of Conduct

All administration staff must comply with the requirements laid out in the attached code of conduct and will not be selected to serve on the staff if they meet the disqualification criteria in the code of conduct.

Section 3. Case Review and Decisions

The board will review cases where people disagree with the outcome of Facebook's decisions and have exhausted the appeals process with Facebook.²² The board will also be able to hear cases that have been referred by Facebook.²³ The board will review and decide on content in accordance with Facebook's content policies and values.²⁴

3.1 Case Review Procedures and Timeline

Beginning when the selection of a case is published, the board has a timeframe of ninety (90) days to render a final decision with respect to any particular case. This period may be extended in exceptional circumstances or in the event of technical or operational incidents which impede the Board from publishing a final decision within this target timeframe. If the timeframe is extended, that extension will be notified to the posting person (as well as the reporting person, if different), Facebook and the public. The administration, on behalf of the board, will monitor each chosen case and ensure the board issues its decision within this timeframe.

3.1.1 Case Preparation

The administration will assist the case selection committee by preparing case submissions for consideration following the prioritization criteria set by the committee. Case preparation will include assembling all material information, categorizing cases by violation type, and summarizing the content submitted.

3.1.2 Selection of Cases

The case selection committee will select cases for review by a majority vote of the committee. The timeframe for selection of cases will be a maximum of ninety (90) days from the referral by Facebook or submission of an appeal by a user. This timeframe may be extended in exceptional circumstances or in the event of technical or operational incidents. The administration, on behalf of the board, will then promptly notify the posting person (as well as the reporting person, if different) and Facebook of the case being selected or declined.²⁵

3.1.3 Assignment and Initial Case Review

Once a case has been selected by the case selection committee, it will be assigned to a board panel of five members. Four members will be assigned randomly from among the board at large. One member will be assigned randomly from among those board members who are from the region which the content primarily affects.²⁶ The names of the board panelists will not be publicly released with the final decision to ensure the safety and security of members.

When randomly assigning panel members to cases submitted by Facebook to the board for expedited review, the co-chairs, in consultation with the director, may exclude from the assignment process those board members who are unavailable to deliberate quickly.

Each panel will have an opportunity to review the case and request additional information from Facebook as well as from other sources.²⁷

3.1.4 Additional Case Information

At their discretion and prior to deliberation, board panels may request and receive information from a global pool of outside subject-matter experts, including academics, linguists, and researchers on a specific issue (e.g. region, cultural norm, or phrase). This pool of experts will be populated at the discretion and/or direction of the board.

Separately, panels may, at their discretion, also request issue briefs from advocacy or public interest organizations that reflect a range of perspectives.

3.1.5 Case File

The panel will receive a package of case materials prior to deliberation through the case management tool. This will include:

- A statement by the person who submitted the case (and/or who posted the original content);
- A case history (from Facebook);
- A policy rationale (also from Facebook);
- Clarifying information (also from Facebook) if requested by the board; and
- All additional outside information, if requested by any member of the panel.

When Facebook submits a case to the board for expedited review, the board may, due to the urgent nature of the case, choose to shorten the time within which the person who posted the original content may submit a statement.

While reviewing case information, the board panel must adhere to the confidentiality, data, and privacy obligations included in the code of conduct, Facebook's policies regarding the use and protection of the data of people who use Facebook’s services, and any other agreements entered into between the members, the LLC, or Facebook. At all times, board members will ensure that the devices on which they review board material meet the data and security requirements specified by Facebook and the requirements set forth in their contracts with the LLC.

3.1.6 Case Deliberation

Panel deliberations will be held privately to protect the information the board is reviewing and the security of the panel members. All panel members must participate in order for a case deliberation to proceed. If a panelist is unable to meet during the designated time, the panel’s deliberation must be rescheduled or the panel member replaced.

Deliberations will proceed according to the charter, vis-à-vis the board’s basis for decision-making.²⁸ All panelists must submit a vote, as abstentions are disallowed.

3.1.7 Draft Decision and Recommendation

After concluding deliberations, a board panel will draft a written decision, which will include: a determination on the content; the rationale for reaching that decision; and, if desired, a policy advisory statement. The decision will also include any concurring or dissenting viewpoints, if the panel cannot reach consensus.

3.1.8 Board Review

The board as a whole will review the panel’s draft decision prior to finalization. During this review period, any board member may raise questions or provide comment(s), which the panel will review and take under consideration.

If needed, the board may deliberate as a group to determine if the draft decision can be adopted or if a re-review is required. If the board decides to send the case through a re-review, via majority vote, a new panel will convene promptly.

3.2 Final Decision and Release

Once approved for release, the administration will approve the publication of the final decision on the board’s website.²⁹ The names of any non-participating board members will generally not be publicly released with the final decision.

The administration will promptly notify the person(s) involved and Facebook of the board’s decision within three (3) business days. The board will publish its decision as soon as it is complete. The administration will then translate each decision into the board’s official languages within twenty-one (21) days so that the decision will be available on the board’s website for review in these languages as well.

Section 4. Transparency and Communications

In addition to making each decision publicly available and archived in a database of case decisions,³⁰ the board will also release annual reports that provide a summary of the cases it selects and reviews, as well as an overview of its operations.³¹

4.1 Annual Report

With the assistance of the administration, the board will prepare and publish an annual report. This will include, at minimum:

- The number and type of cases, as well as a summary of board decisions and policy advisory statements;
- A breakdown of case submissions by region, source of referral, and platform (e.g., Facebook vs. Instagram);
- An analysis of how the board’s decisions have considered or tracked the international human rights implicated by a case; and
- A report on the timeliness of Facebook’s implementation and response to board decisions and policy advisory statements.

The board must approve the annual report, by majority vote, prior to its release. The report will be published on the board’s website.

4.2 Communications Policy

Members will treat panel deliberations and case review as confidential and commit only to issuing joint statements on decisions, which will include all views from deliberations.³² Members will not disclose any information related to the people who use Facebook or Instagram except in its approved final decision.

Members will bring any external or media requests pertaining to the work of the board to the attention of the director, who will serve as a point of contact for establishing procedures for board members and staff to respond to external requests and communications.

ARTICLE 2

Facebook

Section 1. Commitment to the Oversight Board

Facebook will commit to the board's independent oversight on content decisions, and it will fund the trust and appoint trustees.³³

1.1 Technical Capabilities for Appeals

Overall, Facebook will continue developing the systems and infrastructure required to support the board's review of content, given that the board's scope and activities will grow and change over time.

In the future and subject to Facebook's technical and procedural improvements, the people who use Facebook will have the ability to request a review of other enforcement actions and content types. The board may also have the ability to review content that is posted on other services, which will be mutually agreed upon by the board and Facebook. When new features or services are created on Facebook or Instagram (and where appeals are available), Facebook may make this content available for the board's review.

1.2 Limitations

Not all content can be submitted to the board for its review due to technical and/or legal limitations. For example, some content is not technically or operationally feasible to be sent to the board; other content is not eligible to be submitted because of legal restrictions.

1.2.1 Content Not Available for Board Review

The following types of content are not available for the board's review, unless reassessed in the future by Facebook:

- Content types: content posted through marketplace, fundraisers, Facebook dating, messages, and spam.
- Decision types: decisions made on reports involving intellectual property or pursuant to legal obligations.
- Services: content on WhatsApp, Messenger, Instagram Direct, and Oculus.

1.2.2 Legal Obligations

Nothing in these bylaws or other governing documents will be interpreted in a manner that would result in a violation of law by Facebook. Cases that meet the following criteria will not be eligible for the board to review:

- Where the underlying content has already been blocked, following the receipt of a valid report of illegality, and not removed for a Community Standards violation;
- Where the underlying content is criminally unlawful in a jurisdiction with a connection to the content (such as the jurisdiction of the posting party and/or the reporting party) and where a board decision to allow the content on the platform could lead to criminal liability for Facebook, Facebook employees, the administration, or the board's members; or
- Where the underlying content is unlawful in a jurisdiction with a connection to the content (such as the jurisdiction of the posting party and/or the reporting party) and where a board decision to allow the content on the platform could lead to adverse governmental action against Facebook, Facebook employees, the administration, or the board's members.

1.3 Resource Allocation

Facebook will commit to providing funding to support the board's operations. In addition, it will allocate internal resources to ensure that the board's questions are answered, decisions are appropriately implemented and recommendations considered.

1.3.1 Funding

Facebook will fund the trust upfront for at least six (6) years. It will review the annual reports prepared by the trust to determine the operational and procedural effectiveness of the board. Facebook will use the reports prepared by the trust to determine future funding allocations to the board. Facebook's grant of money to the trust will be irrevocable.

1.3.2 Internal Resources

The internal resources and teams allocated by Facebook may vary over time and in accordance with the board's needs. However, Facebook will assign resources to support the development of case files for the board's review and ensure implementation of the board's decisions. At a minimum, Facebook will dedicate sufficient resources to allow for the following organizational functions:

- Providing an operations case manager, as well as other operations support; assisting with the identification of cases that Facebook will submit to the board; providing a case history to the board for its review; responding to other requests for information the board may have; and ensuring that the board's decisions are implemented;
- Providing a policy liaison, as well as other policy support; assisting with the identification of cases that Facebook will refer for the board's review; providing the policy rationale behind Facebook's decision; giving expert guidance to the board on the policies involved in each case; and responding to policy advisory statements from the board;
- Ensuring that Facebook has sufficient legal specialists to review cases for legal risk; assessing Facebook's legal obligations with respect to implementation of the board's decisions and privacy compliance; and protecting the data of people who use Facebook's services;
- Dedicating resources for cross-functional support to ensure that Facebook responds to and implements board decisions; communicating product and engineering developments to the board; and
- Providing product and engineering resources, including a product manager, to support the board's infrastructure; building the internal systems to support the appeal of additional content types and objects.

In addition, Facebook will maintain responsibility for the development and maintenance of tools that the board uses to review and decide upon cases, including the board's website and case management tool.

1.4 Confidentiality, Privacy, and Data Security

Facebook will only provide data to the board in compliance with applicable laws and regulations. In some situations, this may require the express consent from one or more persons before a review may proceed. The board will handle any such data provided by Facebook, as instructed by Facebook, and in compliance with applicable laws and regulations. It will only use this data for the purpose of considering a case. The board will not release information relating to people who use Facebook's services except when approved in a final decision, in accordance with these bylaws.³⁴

Section 2. Facebook Case Submissions, Information for Board Review, and Implementation

Facebook will be able to refer cases for the board’s review.³⁵ Facebook will also commit that it will provide information reasonably required for the board to make its decisions;³⁶ implement the board’s binding decisions;³⁷ and take action on advisory policy statements.³⁸

2.1 Facebook Case Submissions

Facebook will have the ability to refer cases to the board both on an ongoing basis and under emergency circumstances, with the latter being heard under the process for expedited review.³⁹ Outside of the criteria expressly stated in Article 3, Facebook may refer additional content types to the board for review.⁴⁰ Facebook will also be able to request advisory policy statements from the board.⁴¹

2.1.1 Regular Case Submissions

Facebook will directly refer cases to the board that are significant and difficult. Significant means that the content in question involves real-world impact and issues that are severe, large-scale, and/or important for public discourse. Difficult means the content raises questions about current policies or their enforcement, with strong arguments on both sides for either removing or leaving up the content under review. The board has sole discretion to accept or reject cases that are referred through this process.

2.1.2 Expedited Review

In exceptional circumstances, including when content could result in urgent real-world consequences, Facebook may send cases to the board for an automatic and expedited review, which will be completed within a maximum of thirty (30) days. Facebook will include a description of the exceptional circumstances that have led to the expedited review referral, including as appropriate any urgent real-world consequences Facebook has considered.

Pending board decisions, Facebook retains the right to make interim decisions with regard to difficult and disputed content, including content that is urgent and requires expedited review. Facebook, however, agrees to be bound by the board’s ultimate determination in such matters.

2.1.3 Requests for Policy Guidance

Separate from the review of an individual case, Facebook may request a policy advisory statement from the board.⁴² The board may accept or reject these requests, and it will hear such requests using the same procedures as other cases.

Facebook will provide additional context or policy information needed to inform the board's consideration of an issue and, if necessary, the board can avail itself of outside subject-matter experts. Once the board has provided an opinion, both Facebook's request and the board response will be made public.

2.2 Case Procedures and Timelines

Facebook will prepare cases to submit to the board, including necessary information on the content in question.

2.2.1 Preparation

Facebook will use its internal criteria to identify cases for referral to the board.⁴³ It will submit those cases through a dedicated portal for Facebook submission.

2.2.2 Information for Case Review

For any case selected for review or referred for expedited review, Facebook will provide the following information about the content in question:

- A graphic of the content in question;
- Information about where the content was posted (e.g. a page, profile, or group);
- Basic information about the person who posted or reported the content that relates to the appeal or content in question; and
- The case history of the content under review, such as the initial content reviewer action(s), the date and time of appeal.

In addition, the board will also receive the policy rationale for Facebook's ultimate decision, which will include a citation of the relevant policy implicated as well as Facebook's rationale for reaching its decision.

Beyond the items listed above, the board can request additional information that is reasonably required for it to make a decision. In such instances, Facebook may provide the following:

- Information on engagement and reach of the content;
- Reporting information;
- Case history, including Facebook’s enforcement actions;
- Information regarding Facebook’s decision and policies; and/or
- Additional pieces of content similar to the case in question.

Facebook may decline such requests where Facebook determines that the information is not reasonably required for decision-making in accordance with the intent of the charter, is not technically feasible to provide, is covered by attorney/ client privilege, and/or cannot or should not be provided because of legal, privacy, safety, or data protection restrictions or concerns.

2.2.3 Legal Review

In instances where a person has not given consent to share their personal information publicly, or where the content in question discloses personal information about another identifiable individual who has not consented, Facebook will have approximately three (3) days to ensure the privacy of the people who use its services is protected by reviewing the case decision for the sole purpose of protecting the personally identifying information or data of the parties involved in the appeal and signing off on the release of the decision.

Facebook will not have the authority to make any substantive changes or edits to the board’s decisions, other than to ensure that the privacy of the involved individuals is protected.

In instances where the board’s decision requires that content be reinstated or left on the platform, Facebook’s legal department will review the board’s decision prior to implementation for the express purpose of ensuring that Facebook is not under a legal obligation to block access to that content. If Facebook is under such an obligation, it has the right to block access to that content where appropriate.

2.3 Response to and Implementation of Board Decisions

The board’s resolution on each case will be binding on Facebook, unless implementation of a resolution could violate the law, while the policy advisory statement from the board will be considered as a recommendation.⁴⁴ On both content decisions and policy advice, Facebook will publicly disclose the action it takes in response to the board’s decision.⁴⁵

2.3.1 Implementation of Board Decisions

Facebook will implement board decisions to allow or remove the content properly brought to it for review within seven (7) days of the release of the board's decision on how to action the content. In addition, Facebook will undertake a review to determine if there is identical content with parallel context⁴⁶ associated with the board's decision that remains on Facebook. If Facebook determines that it has the technical and operational capacity to take action on that content as well, it will do so promptly.

Facebook will be informed by the board's decisions when refining policy in separate and similar contexts.

If Facebook in its determination receives valid legal notice to block content that has been reinstated or left on the platform via a board decision, Facebook can block access to the content where appropriate.

2.3.2 Response to Board Decisions and Recommendations

Facebook will respond to all board decisions publicly through its newsroom. It will provide a statement documenting its implementation of each of the board's content decisions. Once implemented, Facebook will also notify the posting person and reporting person (if different). Any notice will be provided in the person's preferred language and be guided by relevant human rights principles.

When the board chooses to issue a policy advisory statement, Facebook will send that recommendation through its official policy development process or other appropriate channels. Facebook will provide regular public updates via Facebook's newsroom, the public minutes of the policy development forum, or other statements. Facebook will provide a public response regarding any policy recommendations and follow-on actions within thirty (30) days of that recommendation being received.

ARTICLE 3

People

Section 1. Case Submission Procedure and Timeline

In instances where people disagree with the outcome of Facebook’s decision and have exhausted appeals with Facebook, a request for review can be submitted to the board by either the original poster of the content or a person who previously submitted the content to Facebook for review.⁴⁷ People submitting requests for the board’s review will have the opportunity to submit relevant and informed written statements to the board.⁴⁸

1.1 Prerequisites and Window to Submit

In order to request a review by the board, a person must have an active Facebook or Instagram account. After having exhausted Facebook’s appeals process, the person who submitted that appeal will receive notice of Facebook’s decision. They will also receive a reference identification number, if the content is eligible for review by the board. If that person is unsatisfied with the outcome of their appeal to Facebook, they can choose to submit their case to the board within fifteen (15) days of Facebook’s final decision.

A person may not resubmit a request for review for content that has been reviewed or rejected by the board previously.

1.1.1 Initial Appeals

Immediately when the board begins operations, people may request the board’s review of content that meets all of the following criteria::

- Content types: individual pieces of content, such as specific posts, photos, videos, and comments;
- Decision types: content that has been removed for violations of content policies, now known as “Community Standards” or “Community Guidelines”, and currently within the scope for Facebook’s appeals process; and
- Services: content on Facebook or Instagram.

1.1.2 Future Technical Appeals

In the future, people will have the opportunity to request the board’s review of other enforcement actions, such as:

- Content types: content such as groups, pages, profiles, and events, as well as advertisements; and
- Decision types: content reviewed by Facebook for potential violations of content policies (now known as “Community Standards” or “Community Guidelines”) and ultimately allowed to remain on the platform; content rated “false” by third-party fact-checkers, on the basis that the content was not eligible for fact-checking.

1.2 Requests for Board Review and Notice of Resolution

Requests for review will be submitted through the board’s website. Notice will be provided as the case progresses.

1.2.1 Case Submission and Information for the Board

A person who wishes to submit a case for the board’s review will have access to the board’s website, using an individualized identification number. They will also be able to track the progress of the submitted case and, if it is selected, view the board’s final decision.

When submitting a case to the board, people will be able to explain why they believe Facebook may have made an incorrect decision on the content in question; why they believe the board should hear their case; why they originally posted the content; and how Facebook’s decision could impact others. They will also have the opportunity to identify the language(s) involved and the country or countries to which the content relates.

When a person submits a request for review, they will also be able to choose whether to consent to the inclusion of identifying details in the board’s final decision.

1.2.2 Notice of Case Selection

Once a case has been selected by the board, the submitting person (and/or posting person, if different) will receive notice. If the board has not selected that case for review, notice will also be provided.

1.2.3 Notice of Case Decision by Board

Once the board reaches a final decision, both Facebook and the person who submitted the case will be notified at the same time. In addition, the individual who submitted the case will see the status of their case on their appeals dashboard, accessible from the board's website. In the future, once technically feasible, Facebook will share Facebook's policy rationale, submitted as part of the case file with the user.⁴⁹

1.2.4 Notice of Facebook Action

Once the board issues a final decision, Facebook will have approximately seven (7) days to implement it; Facebook will also provide notice of its action(s) to the submitting person (and/or posting person, if different).

1.3 Supporting Information

A person who submits a request for review will have the opportunity to provide their rationale for the case in question.⁵⁰ The following resources may provide useful information, as context, for formulating their explanations:

- The values that inform Facebook's content policies;
- Facebook's Community Standards and Instagram's Community Guidelines;
- The minutes documenting Facebook Product Policy Forum; and
- The board's previous decisions.

The case submission process may be adjusted over time, in order to support increased access and transparency.

ARTICLE 4

The Trust

Section 1. Trust Structure

The trust will ensure governance and accountability, as well as the board's adherence to its stated purpose.⁵¹ Facebook will appoint independent trustees.⁵²

1.1 Structure

The trust carries out its purpose through the LLC, whose managers are the trustees of the trust. The LLC will enter into contracts (including a service agreement with each board member), pay compensation and other operating expenses of the board, and employ administrative staff⁵³ to support the board's operations.

1.2 Trustee Composition and Size

The trust will be comprised of at least three and no more than eleven individual trustees and one corporate trustee who will be selected by Facebook. The trustees will be responsible for confirming future board members and ensuring that the board is operating according to its purpose and its governing documents. The trust will not have a role in reviewing cases or interfere with the board's exercise of its independent judgment on substantive content issues. The administration will provide support to the board in connection with reviewing cases, but will not interfere with the board's exercise of independent judgment on substantive content issues.

Section 2. Duties

The trustees will formally appoint and, if necessary, remove members for breaches of the board's code of conduct.⁵⁴ The trustees will review and approve the board's operating budget, including member compensation, administration and other needs.⁵⁵

2.1 Membership Duties

The trust through the LLC will help ensure separation between Facebook and the board by serving as the mechanism that will formally appoint and, if needed, remove members.

2.1.1 Appointment of Board Members

The trustees will formally appoint members, while ensuring that the board maintains geographic balance.⁵⁶ Candidates approved by the board will be promptly referred to the trustees for review, along with such supporting documentation as the trustees may reasonably request, such as curricula vitae. Trustees will either review and appoint or reject candidates within thirty (30) days, upon receipt of recommendation(s) from the board.

2.1.2 Removal of Board Members

A member may only be removed, prior to the expiration of their term, if the trustees have determined that that member has violated the code of conduct.⁵⁷ Members will not be removed due to content decisions they have made.

The individual trustees may receive, verify, and act upon requests to remove members based on violations of the code of conduct. These requests may come from the board, the director, or the public. The individual trustees may also take action on their own to remove a member of their own accord, based on the standards above.

2.1.3 Appointment and Removal of Board Officers

The trustees will formally appoint co-chairs that have been recommended by the outgoing co-chairs of the board. Co-Chair candidates will be promptly referred to the trustees for review. The individual trustees will review and either appoint or reject candidates within fifteen (15) days, upon receipt of recommendation(s) from the board. Officers may have their responsibilities as officers revoked by a supermajority vote of the board, subject to approval by the individual trustees.

2.2 Operational Oversight and Fiduciary Duties

The purpose of the trust will be to maintain administrative and process oversight, whereas the purpose of the board will be to exercise independent judgment on substantive content issues. In practice, this means that the trustees will be responsible for the safeguarding of the assets in the trust, in addition to overseeing the annual review and approval of the board's budget.

2.2.1 Trust Assets

The trust will protect the funding and management of resources allocated to support the board's infrastructure and operations by reviewing and approving the annual operating budget of the board; reviewing and approving expenditures that may arise but are not included in this annual budget of the board; developing, approving, and implementing the investment strategy and allocation of the trust assets; and requesting additional funding from Facebook to support the ongoing operations of the board, after conducting a review of the board. With the consent of the individual trustees, the corporate trustee will provide administrative and coordination support to ensure that the trust can carry out these duties.

2.2.2 Budget Approval

The trust will retain responsibility for approving the board's annual budget each calendar year. In reviewing each annual budget, the trust will consider whether the budget complies with the board's stated purpose, reasonably reflects operational needs, and accurately accounts for spending in the prior year.

The trust will ensure that the administration is adequately funded to support the demands of their position, scope of responsibilities, and volume of cases submitted for board review.

ARTICLE 5

Amendments

Section 1. Bylaws Amendments

These bylaws may be amended only with the approval of a majority of the individual trustees and with the agreement of Facebook and a majority of the board.⁵⁸

The board will have the authority to amend Article 1, Sections 1, 2, and 4 of these bylaws by a vote of two-thirds of the board, provided that no amendment it makes to these sections will contradict the board's charter.

It may also seek to amend Article 1, Section 3 as well, through a two-thirds vote of the board and with the agreement of Facebook. Facebook will agree to such amendments where it has determined that it is technically, operationally, and legally capable of doing so Facebook will have the authority to amend Article 2, Sections 1 and 2 of these bylaws, after consulting with the board and the trustees, provided that no amendment it makes to these sections will contradict the board's charter. In addition, Facebook must secure the concurrence of the board, through a two-thirds vote, to amend these sections in such a way where doing so would remove a previously granted authority to the board.

Facebook will have the authority to amend Article 3, Section 1 of these bylaws, after consulting with the board and the trustees, provided that no amendment it makes to this section will contradict the board's charter.

The individual trustees may amend Article 4, with the consent of Facebook and the corporate trustee, to the extent that the individual trustees deem it necessary or advisable to carry out the purpose of the trust.

Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, any amendment to these bylaws that relates to or increases the obligations or duties of a particular trustee requires the consent of such trustee.

Introduction

The following code of conduct sets forth the rules and guidelines that govern the personal and professional conduct for all board members (“members”) and staff of the Oversight Board (“board”).

The board expects that members and staff will follow both the letter and spirit of this code of conduct, which is grounded in the principles of independence, accountability and impartiality; professionalism, integrity and diversity; and confidentiality.

Members and staff alike must demonstrate independent judgment and impartiality when making decisions and fulfilling their duties. Their acts cannot be unduly influenced nor perceived to be unduly influenced by external factors or bias, and wherever possible acts should be transparent and explained to avoid any misperception of undue influence.

Members and staff must conduct themselves, both in their professional and personal capacities, with the highest integrity. That means avoiding even the appearance of impropriety and flagging all potential conflicts through proper channels.

The issues the board will address will be complex and contentious, which is why a deep commitment by members and staff to collegiality and professionalism are critical to the work of the board.

Finally, members and staff must uphold the highest standards of confidentiality and take all appropriate measures to safeguard the trust of users in this institution.

While this document is meant to guide the conduct of board members and staff, it is not exhaustive.

Independence and Impartiality

Members and staff must not allow their personal, social, professional, or other relationships to unduly influence their official conduct or judgment. Similarly, members should not allow themselves or the board to be used to advance or appear to advance the private interests of others in performing his, her or their duties.

Article 1. Conflicts of Interest

Conflicts of interest may be caused by financial, personal or professional conflicts that may contravene their ability to make impartial decisions.

Accordingly, members, staff, and their immediate family will not create or maintain conflicts of interest, which include but are not limited to the following:

- Financial conflicts of interest that may impact the ability of board members or staff to perform their duties, such as: (1) receiving gifts, entertainment, travel, loans or financial assistance; or (2) soliciting funds or other contributions on the basis of their position with the board. These actions may constitute a violation of this code of conduct where prior approval from the director has not been received.
- Personal or professional conflicts of interest that may impact (or appear to impact) the ability of board members or staff to perform their duties, such as: (1) being a former or current employee of Facebook, Inc. or having an immediate family member employed by Facebook, Inc.; or (2) participating as an adverse party or a member of a law practice in any litigation or legal dispute with Facebook.
- Political conflicts of interest that may impact (or appear to impact) the ability of board members or staff to perform their duties, such as: (1) politicized or partisan public expression of support or criticism of a political party, political candidate, or elected official; or (2) public fundraising in support of a political party, political candidate, or elected official.
- Other conflicts of interest that in any way compromise or appear to compromise the independence of members or staff in performing their official duties.

Article 2. Recusals

Members who have identified or have been identified by the director or co-chairs as having a conflict of interest will immediately recuse themselves from reviewing a case. If the conflict of interest is not deemed by the director to rise to the level of recusal, it will be noted and documented by the staff for future use. The names of non-participating board members will generally not be publicly released with the final decision.

Article 3. Disqualifications

As a condition of their service, board members and staff must disclose any matters outlined in “Appendix A: Disqualification Conditions or Required Disclosures” below. Should any of these conditions arise during a board member or staff’s tenure, they must immediately inform the director or co-chairs. Such cases that impact board members will be reviewed by the trustees and those that impact staff will be reviewed by the director.

Professionalism and Integrity

All members and staff of the board are expected to uphold high professional standards and collegiality, in terms of their conduct and behavior, while acting in their official and unofficial capacities. To maintain high standards of business conduct and ethics, members and staff must act in a manner that is on behalf of and in the interest of the board, the people that the board serves, and the values and objectives it is tasked with upholding, in accordance with the charter, bylaws and this code of conduct.

Article 4. Gifts

Board members, staff, and their immediate family will not directly or indirectly accept any gift, entertainment, travel, or financial assistance from an interested party that could be reasonably perceived as being intended to influence board member or staff performance or compromise their independence. Any offers should be discussed with and approved in advance by the director of oversight board (“director”).

If attending a conference or event, and the host offers members or staff a tangible gift (including travel and accommodations) for attendance or presentations (whether or not this is offered to all participants), members and staff must follow the guidance in this section to determine whether to accept such a gift, as well as declare receipt of the gift to the director. Such gifts will be recorded for reporting purposes to the trustees.

Members and staff are expected to comply with all applicable laws, as well as policies of the LLC, regarding harassment and discrimination. Any member who feels that they have been subjected to, witnessed, of any kind, should immediately report the matter to the director, as outlined in Article 11 below. If the matter relates to the director, it should be reported to the trustees.

Article 8. Additional Agreements

Members and staff must abide by the terms of any service agreement that they enter into with the LLC. As a condition of continued service, the LLC may also require members to enter into additional agreements with Facebook in connection with the board's overall ability to review cases. Those include, but are not limited to, agreements providing for confidentiality, data protection or assignment of copyright obligations. Any violation of, or failure to comply with, any of the above described agreements will be treated as a violation of this code of conduct and may result in the termination of a board or staff member's service with the board or result in them being prohibited from providing services to Facebook.

Confidentiality of Board Operations

The board is committed to transparently communicating the outcomes of case decisions, as enshrined in the charter and bylaws. For the purposes of case deliberations and ongoing work, members and staff must keep confidential all case information, information about their colleagues, the process for deliberations, and the operations of the board.

Article 9. Confidential Information

The protection of user data and confidential information is of critical importance for preserving public trust in the board as an institution. In addition, it is a necessary precondition for the board to continue its operations. Therefore, members and staff must adhere to the agreement(s) they sign as conditions of their employment.

Article 10. Communications

Members and staff must direct any external inquiries, requests for appearances, and/or communications related to their service on the board to the director, who will be charged with implementing the board's communications policies. These policies will ensure that public communications by board members and staff will be carried out in a way that is privacy protective and reflects the board's purpose as a collective decision-making body.

Additional Guidance

Article 11. Procedures for Reporting Violations of the Code of Conduct

Members and staff must immediately report violations or suspected violations of this code of conduct to the director. If any code of conduct violation also potentially involves criminal activity, it must be reported to law enforcement authorities immediately.

In the case of a violation involving the director, it should be reported to the trustees. In making a report of a violation or suspected violation of this code of conduct, members and others must act in good faith and have reasonable grounds for believing that the information disclosed indicates a violation.

The trustees, in the case of an alleged violation by the director, will appropriately investigate any report of a violation. The LLC will keep its discussions and actions regarding reported violations or suspected violations confidential and in compliance with applicable laws and regulations. The LLC will not retaliate against anyone making a good faith report of a potential violation. Members and staff must cooperate fully with any investigation, and should not independently investigate any alleged violations as any such action could compromise the integrity of a formal investigation.

Discipline of board members for a violation of this code of conduct, or any other applicable law or policy, may range from a warning up to and including termination of service, to be decided at the discretion of the trustees. Discipline of staff for a violation of this code of conduct, or any other applicable law or policy, may range from a warning up to and including termination of service, to be decided at the discretion of the director. In addition, failure to report a known violation of this code of conduct, or any other applicable law or policy, may also result in disciplinary action. The LLC's response to reports of possible violations of law may involve disclosure to, and cooperation with the appropriate authorities.

Any questions about this code of conduct or the policies contained herein or questions regarding any matter that could affect the actual or perceived independence, integrity, or professionalism of the board should be directed to the director.

Article 12. Amendments

This code of conduct may be amended with the approval of the trustees. It is the members' obligation to be aware of, and abide by, the policies contained in this code of conduct and any amendment thereto.

Article 13. Applicable Law

Board members and staff must follow all applicable laws and regulations, as well as this code of conduct, and any additional policies and procedures of the board. To the extent that members or staff are potentially required by any law to be treated or to act in a manner inconsistent with the provisions of this code of conduct, such law will apply only if and to the extent that it specifically and expressly mandates such treatment or action.
